The Ronhill Trail Initiative is a program of activity that will get you in the right kit, for the right conditions and encourages participation in trail events up and down the country.

The Trail clothing line is designed without limits to ensure you have the maximum performance with minimum weight.

Additionally there are a number of events and races Ronhill supports, these include the challenging West Highland Way Race, the award winning Eridge Park 10k and the Great Langdale Half Marathon set in the picturesque Lake District.

The Trail Initiative web space will be introduced in February '12 on www.ronhill.com alongside the Ronhill news feed on www.twitter.com/ronhill_UK

A male trail runner is captured in motion, running up a rocky path in a dense forest. He is wearing a dark blue and black trail running kit, including a short-sleeved shirt, shorts, and running shoes. He has a hydration pack on his back. The forest is filled with tall, thin trees and green foliage, creating a natural and challenging environment for the run.

men's trail collection

The Trail collection is designed for maximum performance with minimum weight. All the fabrics are carefully selected to provide the highest standards of breathability, moisture management and are light in weight. The form of each item is designed around long distance, off-road running needs. They feature stowage pockets, to keep fuel gels, accessories and other essential items secure, whilst key outerwear pieces pack down into integrated pockets. The Ronhill Trail collection - Without Limits.

In order to provide clear and concise information on product fabrics and key benefits the following structure has been developed to bring clarity across all communication materials.

A series of fabric groups and a range of benefits are highlighted on products in the Advance, Aspiration, Trail and Vizion ranges.

The structure brings clarity to our technical fabrics and offers enhanced information on our performance features that bring real benefits to a running garment. Both the fabric and features guides will be primary information on garment swing tickets, prominent online and within this and future workbooks. Each fabric group has a key benefit to the wearer and a specific set of characteristics. An icon displays an image depicting the garments key benefit.

Fabric groups

All the various fabrics within the Advance, Aspiration, Trail and Vizion ranges are part of one of six fabric groups. Each fabric group has a specific set of characteristics that are found in each of the fabrics belonging to that fabric group. The fabric groups are:

fabrics and icons

powerlite

Key benefits:
Stretch & recovery with a next to skin fit

Additional information:
The excellent stretch and recovery is achieved from the knitted construction along with high elastane content. Therefore Powerlite fabrics offer great freedom of movement and excellent support with a next to skin fit.

flexlite

Key benefits:
Stretch woven fabrics

Additional information:
The inherent stretch in a Flexlite fabric is achieved from the high elastane content in a woven construction. This allows the fabric to provide great freedom of movement with a flattering, relaxed fit.

activelite

Key benefits:
Breathable and wind resistant

Additional information:
The excellent wind resistance is achieved by a tightly woven construction. This prevents wind from penetrating the fabric whilst maintaining high standards of breathability. Activelite fabrics are lightweight with a relaxed fit.

therma^{lite}

Key benefits:
Regulates body temperature

Additional information:
Thermalite is a knitted fabric that is thermal and ideal at regulating body temperature as your body heats up whilst running. Thermalite is soft to touch and smooth next to the skin.

vapour^{lite}

Key benefits:
Moisture management

Additional information:
The excellent moisture management from a Vapourlite fabric is achieved from a lightweight knitted construction which helps draw moisture away from your body. Once at the outer surface this moisture evaporates into the air. Vapourlite fabrics are lightweight, breathable and quick drying.

aqua^{lite}

Key benefits:
Total waterproof and windproof barrier

Additional information:
Aqualite brings together all the benefits of a taped waterproof garment with total wind protection. Aqualite fabrics are carefully selected to combine high levels of waterproofing with high levels of breathability. The right combination ensures wearer comfort in the worst weather conditions.

Bamboo

This product contains Bamboo.
Bamboo is selected due to its natural anti-bacterial properties and it's soft and smooth luxurious feel. Bamboo fabrics are light and strong and they have excellent wicking properties. Together this makes bamboo a great choice for next to skin clothing.

Windproof

This product provides a windproof barrier.
The inherent membrane within the fabric is a complete barrier to wind, giving you total protection. This membrane also allows for enhanced stretch and freedom of movement whilst also providing excellent breathability.

DWR

This product is water repellent.
A Durable Water Repellent (DWR) treatment is added to the fabric to prevent this product from becoming saturated with water. Instead water beads on the outer surface of the fabric and rolls off, increasing wearer comfort.

Wicking

This product helps to keep you dry.
Wicking is the process of drawing moisture away from the body, through the fabric to the outer surface. At the outer surface the moisture evaporates into the air helping to keep you dry. This enhances comfort whilst running.

Recycled

Made from recycled fibres
This product uses 100% recycled fabric. The recycled polyester fabrics use PET bottles and scrapped polyester textiles as raw materials to manufacture the recycled fibre in order to produce a greener product.

Reflective

This product is reflective.
Reflectivity is a key safety feature that helps keep you seen and safe whilst running; whatever the weather or the light conditions.

This product is Ronhill Vizion L.E.D compatible.
Ronhill Vizion L.E.D technology is available of a small separate detachable unit.

The hook and loop secure fastener keeps the L.E.D unit in place on the back of the jacket whilst you run. The detachable L.E.D is an added safety feature as part of your running apparel.

Security Pocket

This product has a zipped secure pocket
This product contains a zipped security pocket. This pocket is designed to keep your keys, money, MP3 player and/or energy gels secure whilst you are out on your run. Look out for additional headphone loops on the products to keep your headphone cables secure and tidy.

UPF40

This product contains sun protection fabrics.
Whilst out running and exercising, our bodies are exposed to the sun often for extended periods. Ronhill UPF40 fabrics feature outstanding UVR protection. Fabrics are rated using the recognised Ultraviolet Protection Factor (UPF) rating system; scored from 15 to 50+. The higher the UPF score, the higher the protection. Ronhill sun protection fabrics are rated UPF 40.

Merino Wool

This product contains Merino Wool.
A blend of merino wool and polyester fibres are fused together to produce a performance fabric with an extremely natural feel. Merino wool is highly regarded for its exceptionally soft and fine yarns that combine perfectly with the technical benefits of a synthetic fibre. This fusion results in a garment that is breathable, thermal, lightweight and features an effective wicking treatment.
